Comments attributed to Premier Mark McGowan:

"Western Australians have done so well for so long but this week it is absolutely crucial that we stay home, maintain physical distancing and personal hygiene and get tested.

"This is a very serious situation and each and every one of us has to do everything we personally can to help stop the spread in the community.

"We've done everything we can to crush the virus but this deadly virus has a mind of its own and we need to stop it in its tracks.

"Throughout this pandemic the community has done everything we have asked of them and they have great made sacrifices, and it has kept our State safe.

"I could not be more proud and thankful of the way Western Australians have carried themselves and now we're asking for your help once again."

Comments attributed to Health Minister Roger Cook:

"We have acted decisively and swiftly given these circumstances.

"I want to thank everyone in advance for their patience. Expect disruption and delays. This is a highly unpredictable virus.

"But it is important to act calmly and take sensible precautions.

"We've maintained caution in abundance the whole way along this unpredictable COVID-19 journey. We need to stay the course together.

"Take care of your loved ones and be respectful of others including those who are working to keep essential services and supplies ticking over."
